

Dear Parents/Guardians,

We thought it necessary to explain how ParentAccess interprets the marks given on our new Standards Based Report Cards. The marks for the standards are E, M, P, L. In order for software to interpret and average letter marks we must assign them a point value in ParentAccess only. When looking at your student's grades in ParentAccess you will see an overall Grade, Effort or Standards grade depending on what screen you look at as explained in this document. Next to that overall Effort or Standards grade you will see a percentage. PLEASE IGNORE THIS PERCENTAGE! This is how the software averages out the marks and unfortunately we cannot hide this percentage without also hiding the Effort or Standards marks. Please go through this document and keep for reference. Copies to this document are available in the Information/Forms section of Northmor's website, www.northmor.k12.oh.us Please call the school, 419-947-1900, if you have any questions.

Sincerely,
Northmor Elementary Principals

On the Assignments screen there are multiple assignments and may be listed more than once. The top section is the assignment letter grade if given by the teacher. The bottom section is the Effort grade if given. Additionally, this will show a third section for Standards that the assignment was graded on. Remember for GradeBook to understand the standard marks of E, M, P, L we have to assign the marks a number. E=4, M=3, P=2, L=1. This is why in the Effort and Standards sections you will see 3/4, 2/4, etc...

 Standards marks may not be listed at this time. We are giving everyone a chance to learn this grading system before requiring marks for standards.*

When the subject is highlighted in Green this means that the teacher has created a webpage. If Blizzard Bags are ever needed they will be located here
